RESIDENTIAL PROJECT

1. Living in The Moment with Contemporary Design

Contemporary design is a modernization that's not limited by design rules and boundaries. This design develops dynamically from time to time.

However, there are several characteristics that people can see from contemporary design. Starting from using natural materials, line elements, maximum lighting, neutral and metallic colors, and the application of technology.

2. Less is More with Minimalist Design

Minimalist design is known for the simplicity that puts forward the spatial arrangement and function of every piece of furniture and decoration used. This design is suitable for housing or commercial area with fairly limited land.

The development of this design is quite fast. However, there are some characteristics that cannot be eliminated. For example, the use of monochrome colors, minimal partitions, maximum light, and the selection of furniture and decorations as needed.

Modern classic design is a combination of luxurious classic designs with modern designs that are more up-to-date. The combination of the two styles finally produces an attractive interior and exterior appearance that is timeless.

This design is suitable for those of you who want a luxurious impression of your dream home. Classic designs will be given a modern touch through color, interior arrangement, and the selection of furniture and decorations.
